

Aberdeenshire and Moray Pathways 12/13 November 2009

“ This was a great group of women to work with—they made my job very easy. Most of them had never met before but because they were all so open and friendly it was like they had known one another for years. There was a wealth of talent and skills on the training and I hope everyone left feeling more confident about using their skills both in the union and in everyday life. I’m really looking forward to meeting up with everyone again soon.”

“ I really enjoyed the day and felt a great sense of being part of something bigger, and hearing everyone’s stories. I have a meeting coming up with a manager and feel much better about tackling it after the Pathways day.

“ Shona, Trish and I had a spot of bother on the train home but Scotrail didn’t count on an assertive union rep!! They chucked everyone off at Dyce with no explanation, so I confronted the crew and got back on the train and told them I wasn’t getting off again. They let everyone else back on the train and arranged another train to take us all back to Inverurie , so we only had to wait 5 minutes in the cold—RESULT!!
